

Interdisciplinary research work of students and doctoral candidates
- invitation for students, graduates and doctoral candidates of WSB University to submit articles

We cordially invite students and graduates of the 1st and 2nd cycle studies, as well as doctoral candidates of WSB University to submit their scientific articles for publication in an interdisciplinary collective work.

We invite everyone who is familiar with the topics in the fields of Management, Economics, National Security, Law, Pedagogy, Health Sciences, IT, Logistics, Transport and Production Engineering to participate in the publishing project.

The article should be of a scientific nature and include a novelty aspect. The article is to be written in Polish or English. All articles that pass the review process will be published as a chapter in a scientific monograph (Interdisciplinary Scientific Student Works), the publication of which is planned for 2023 by the WSB University Publishing House (which is included on the Ministry of Education and Sciences list of Publishing Houses publishing peer-reviewed scientific monographs).

Three prizes worth PLN 1,000 each will be awarded to the authors of works with the highest ratings from reviewers. In addition to their scientific values, scientific publications may be a factor in applying for research scholarships.

Editorial guidelines, application form, author's / authors' statement, editorial requirements and a form facilitating the correct preparation of the text are attached to the Competition Regulations. We kindly ask you to read this document.

You will be supported in the preparation of the article by Mentors (you will find the list of the persons below and in the annex to the Regulations).

If you choose a Mentor and want to use their help, please send information about your willingness to publish the article, indicating the person of the Mentor and the initial topic of the article (draft version) by 7.03.2023 by email: wydawnictwo@wsb.edu.pl.

The article, the statement and the final application form should be sent in an electronic form (DOC and PDF files) to the following address: wydawnictwo@wsb.edu.pl by 30.04.2023. Information on qualifying the article for publication will be sent to the e-mail address provided in the application – sent by e-mail by 31.05.2023.
